

Fish Passage 2022 – International Conference on River Connectivity

Fish Passage 2022, International Conference on River Connectivity, is seeking individuals, companies, or institutions to sponsor the only international conference that brings together experts from academia, research and consulting, NGOs, and government agencies from around the world to discuss fish passage in the topics of engineering, biology, fisheries management.

This year's conference is hosted at Pacific Northwest National Laboratory (PNNL), a U.S. Department of Energy national laboratory, at Discovery Hall, in Richland, WA.

The conference brings together multi-disciplinary teams to facilitate the collaboration needed to design, build, and test fish passage technologies and approaches that will support healthy fish populations. The mission of the conference is to maintain a small size and low cost, to encourage a diverse group of experts to participate. Furthermore, the 2022 Fish Passage Conference is planned to be the first hybrid conference, which will further extend the engagement to a diverse set of participants.

The following pages outline our sponsorship levels and opportunities, and we hope you will join us for this event!
